THE CITIZEN.

SATURDAY, - - - - - AUG. 1, 1874.

LOCAL MATTERS.

OUR space is mostly and properly taken up with the murder and Hughes' cases.

PLENTY of good grapes from Sonora, are selling at fair prices in Tucson.

No rain here this week. Weather clear and comfortable.

THERE will be good music at the Park Gardens to-morrow (Sunday) evening, and Mr. Levin invites the public to come and listen to it and be happy under the green trees and amidst the beautiful flowers.

Public attention is directed to the card of Briggs Goodrich who has opened a law office in Tucson. We believe Mr. Goodrich will give close and faithful attention to any business entrusted to him.

PAYMASTER TAYLOR expects to soon move into pleasant rooms in Oscar Buckalew's house on the northeast corner of court-house plaza. The carpenters and other workmen have been putting them into shape this week.

WILLIAM ZICKENDORF has a communication before the village council, in which he suggests a plan for organizing an agricultural society. The subject deserves favorable attention and next week we will look into the document and present our readers with it or its principal features.

THE law card of Streeter & Steele appears in to-day's paper. Mr. Streeter stood high in the profession for many years in Minnesota, and has been in practice nearly a year in Tucson, and Mr. Steele is young and energetic, and, so far as we can hear, trustworthy and competent.

AUGUSTUS BRICITA announces himself as an independent candidate for Recorder at the ensuing election. He has filled the position for nearly two years, and we never heard a substantial complaint against him. As yet there is no opposition candidates that we can hear of, and he is likely to have an easy race of it.

JOS. COLLINGWOOD of Florence, writes us on the 27th July, somewhat proudly that he has another daughter that weighed thirteen pounds at the time of its birth, which time he omitted to state. In family matters "Jo" acts just as if barley were in demand at high prices and everything indicated good times.

THE stage adopted a new time schedule, under which the stage will depart from Tucson at 3 p. m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and arrive on Sundays, Tuesdays and Fridays. As to the arrivals, we care little, but the departures will cause THE CITIZEN for the west and north to lie in our postoffice from Saturday until Monday. Under the present arrangement it leaves the day of publication.

BILL OF FARE to be served for dinner at the Cosmopolitan hotel to-morrow, August 2:

Soup—Oyster.
Meat—Roast mutton, lamb and chicken; boiled mutton, beef, ham and tongue.
Entrees—Oyster pie a la Franee, stewed kidney with wine sauce, and baked macaroni.
Vegetables—Mashed potatoes, boiled potatoes, lima beans, string beans, green peas, and stewed tomatoes.
Relishes—Mixed pickles.
Pastry—Craekers and cheese, peach pudding and assorted pies.
Dessert—English walnuts, raisins and almonds.

THE patent for the Tucson townsite will reach here by the next mail. Col. Ruggles, register, gave notice of its receipt early this week, and the necessary receipt was at once sent to Florence for it.

Samuel Hughes and others ought any day to receive patents to two mines in Montezuma district, for when in Washington in May, we were informed that the papers in the cases were all right and the patents would soon be issued. We were also informed that when certain plats and papers were received in Washington, Duffield and Dickason would receive a patent for 1200 feet of the San Xavier mine.

PERSONAL.—Col. E. E. Crittenden left early in the week for Camp Bowie by buckboard.

Judge C. T. Hayden came into Tucson on Wednesday and left for his home on Salt river on Thursday evening.

Col. Taylor and clerk returned from a pay trip to Bowie, Grant, San Carlos and Apache on Wednesday evening, having made the whole round in twenty days. It was the quickest trip on record and all done without loss or injury.

Dr. R. A. Wilbur and wife returned from a hasty trip to Altar on Wednesday. They had a perilous time of it on the way there. Some forty miles out they encountered a flooded country, and were thereby detained nearly twenty-four hours with the water surging by and reaching almost into the ambulance. This required the Doctor to leave his wife and a young lady they were taking to Altar, and some eight miles distant to Governor Sanford's sheep ranch for food and assistance. It is surprising how quickly ordinarily waterless places in this dry Territory become inundated.

C. Q. Blows returned on Thursday from a hard-working visit to the Oro Blanco mines near the Sonora line. He found much water and first-rate prospects for accumulating gold. Out of a partial clean-up of the arrastras, he obtained over thirty ounces of nice gold, and is satisfied that a full clean-up would have yielded all of seventy ounces. He found several tons of tailings of former runs, which were full of gold and quicksilver, and he is convinced by experiment that they will pay largely for re-washing and intends to re-wash them. He is about starting out a pack-train with more tools, supplies and quicksilver, and will follow them himself in a few days. There are eight arrastras running now and he wants to start another. The next time he comes in, he intends bringing 100 ounces of the yellow lure. Oro Blanco is evidently a golden spot and one that bids fair to give this section a prosperous boost ahead. The work thus far has been more of prospecting than mining, but hereafter mining will be the order. The quantity of ore is abundant, easy mined, and worth an average of $100 per ton gold.

Supervisors' Proceedings.

Board met on July 27, as per adjournment on 15th. Present full board and clerk. Proposals were opened for care of indigent sick and county prisoners as follows: S. W. Carpenter, $45 per month; for hospital accommodations for one patient at one time, $65 per month, and each additional patient $50. Dr. R. A. Wilbur proposed to furnish medical attendance for all indigent and county sick for $37.50 per month, and hospital accommodations for one patient at one time $47 per month and for each additional one $51. Dr. Handy proposed to furnish medical attendance for all indigent and county sick at $25 per month, and hospital accommodations for one patient at one time $75 per month and for each additional one $50. The bid of Dr. Handy being the lowest for medical attendance on the indigent and county sick, the contract was awarded to him, and to Dr. Wilbur for hospital accommodations, his bid being lowest for that service.

Adjourned to 28th at 10 a. m., at which hour the full board assembled. J. Neuggess being the only bidder for boarding the county prisoners, the contract was awarded to him at 47 cents per day for each one. Adjourned to July 31, at 10 a. m., when a full board met. Ten dollars per month was ordered paid John Ammerman, an indigent sick person. J. T. Alsap's communication for the annexation of school district of Maricopa county to Pima county, was placed on file; as was also one from the Sheriff regarding improving and repairing county jail. Dr. Wilbur declined to enter into contract and does not wish to qualify. J. H. Toole presented a petition of citizens to discontinue and abolish the county hospital, and it was laid over until August 17. James H. Toole on behalf of the village council, asked for the use of the county prisoners to remove the house of F. S. Leon and for the opening or continuing of Meyers street northward, the village being responsible for the injury to and loss of tools.

The allowance of $12 per month to Mrs. Gray, an indigent sick person, is discontinued. Bills were then ordered paid amounting to $400.93.

In the matter of curbing the well in the jail yard, it is ordered that the Sheriff procure the necessary lumber and have the work done by a carpenter and have the prisoners do the rough work. Improvements of jail cells, was laid over until next meeting.

Keep the City Clean.

It is very important that the streets, and yards about houses, be kept clean—especially at this season when fevers are more than ordinarily prevalent. Mr. McKenna, in charge of the chain-gang, has done all that it is possible for him to do, but to make his labors complete, the citizens should lend a helping hand. People seem to be unusually careless in the melon season. It might be well for the village council to take some action in the matter at its next meeting. It would be within the power of that body to prohibit, by ordinance, the throwing of any kind of filth in the streets. Melon rinds and broken melons are commonly thrown into the streets, and they accumulate flies and in the rainy weather are disagreeable to the sight and smell and to walk over. Then burros are fed with green corn fodder in open public places; so that with the best of efforts on the part of the overseer of the chain-gang, the streets are not in a proper condition. All the rubbish mentioned could be kept in boxes or carefully piled in back corrals until the cart passes on its round, when it could be quickly dumped in and hauled away.

The village council certainly can do something in the direction suggested, and might, if found necessary after personal notice given to those who should fail to comply with so just a regulation, provide for a small fine. As a health measure, the village authorities could very consistently devise some effective measures to aid the good work of Mr. McKenna and the chain-gang.

THIS item appeared last week:

On Thursday Gov. Safford, Dr. Lord, J. W. Hopkins and Judge Dunne left town to take a look at the Governor's sheep ranch located about fifty-five miles southwest of Tucson. They are expected back to-morrow.

They returned on Saturday—sooner than expected. We have heard of striking between wind and water, but they struck water, plump. Had it been merely wind, any one acquainted with the majority of the party would know that they would have been equal to the occasion. But water was too much for them. Take a man out of his boat, and the chances are that if you "are fully authorized to close the negotiation," you have got him. At forty miles out, Hop's of horse struck a soft thing and concluded to "sink or swim," and he sunk and sunk until he came near swamping half the party. The Governor chipped in and "raised" him and as the others of the crowd drew out, he, with his usual obstinacy, undertook to go it alone; but the water got him again. He struck a river, raging furiously. He stood upon the brink and mused. "I know I can swim it," he said, "but what will become of my clothes? I cannot take them with me and to leave them I am ashamed," and like the heroine of St. Pierre's famous story, this consideration stood supreme. As we had occasion to remark, the party returned, but the gubernatorial irrepressibility was aroused and early the next morning he and Mr. J. S. Vosburg started for the famous mountain of Barbagueri, and both returned early Wednesday, having made a successful trip to the Governor's sheep ranch.

GENEROSITY is a noble virtue. It is said to be commendable to make a virtue of necessity, but if you haven't many virtues it's a good play to make one whenever you can. So doubtless thought his Excellency on a late trip. Traveling in a party of four, he met a man out of tobacco and out also forty miles from camp. The man was not quite sure of the personality of the Chief Executive, but he cocked his ear and listened to the talk a few minutes and then he knew his man. "Isn't this the Governor?" with a bow and a smile. "You bet yer life." "Can you give me tobacco enough to get into Tucson?" "Yes, certainly," fumbling about and not finding any. "Where in Topflet is my tobacco?" Still finding none he hailed a comrade in the other wagon. "I say, Hop! give this gentleman some tobacco." Hop gave a square divide of the half sack he had left, but the Governor insisted it was not enough. "Hand it out, it's all right," he exclaimed. "What's the use of being so infernally mean about a little dab of tobacco. I've got a whole bag of it stowed away somewhere here and we can spare it just as well as not." Hop, in the innocence of his heart, handed over the balance and that was the last smoking done on that trip. The Governor's bag was all in his eye, or might have been without seriously endangering the visual power of that useful organ. Hop is free to maintain that generosity is a noble trait of character, but he merely suggests that a little discretion is not a bad thing under certain circumstances.

L. W. CARR's flock of about 6000 fine sheep ought to reach Tucson to-day, as they were at Picocho Wednesday night. They were getting along finely.

A. McKey is pushing work on the fire-proof vault for the county records. John Hill, lately of San Francisco, is doing the masonry. Mr. Hill understands building and operating smelting furnaces and also is a practical miner.

FREDERICK MAISH left about the middle of the week for Magdalena, Sonora, in pursuit of horses and cattle stolen from Maish & Co. last week. He says Ventura Martinez, a noted cattle thief stole fifty head of cattle and other parties ten horses. A number of the cattle had been heard from at Magdalena.
